Herbert George Ponting created the official 'visual narrative of Scott's fateful expedition'. With an archive of over 1,700 glass-plate photographs, Ponting 1870-1935, was the most celebrated photographer of his day. Gary Shaeffer will give an illustrated talk on this special artist and his exquisite images. The combination of Gary's extensive subject knowledge and photograph collection means that we can expect this will be an evening to remember.
